whichschool? magazine

Whichschool? Magazine is a premium guide to private schools within New South Wales.

Take advantage of the modern media landscape

Today's parents are informing themselves on their education choices through a variety of media – websites, apps, print magazines and more.

WhichSchool? engages all of these modern mediums of communication and is now encouraging schools to take advantage of these options by facilitating the creation of your own customised content.

Print Magazine

- Available at key distribution points to target audiences. A combination of print and editorial ensures maximum readership cut-through.

Website

- www.whichschoolmag.com.au is Australia's top databases of non-government schools. Parents can search by state or suburb. Full picture listings and catered text ensure maximum SEO. Listings include school profile, slide show and 1 minute video.

NEW WhichSchool app!

- WhichSchool? is excited to present the WhichSchool? app. Available for free via iTunes, the WhichSchool? app will expand distribution to thousands of parents around the country and the globe.
- Static ads - All print ads will be automatically included as a static ad with an option to upgrade to a dynamic ad.
- Dynamic ads will allow the integration of a slide show of six photos, and a one-minute video. (Limited availability).

NSW website only

The Whichschool? website is a fantastic resource for searching and viewing your school profile online. Schools have the opportunity to upgrade to a Premium listing which means that whenever someone does a search in your area, or selects a field that matches your profile, your school will be "top of the list" in the displayed search results. Premium web listings are an inexpensive way to ensure your school is front of mind when parents and prospective students do a search. For even greater impact we have "Banner Advertising options" allowing your school to be seen throughout the entire site. All schools are provided the opportunity of a basic listing free of charge.
